

Guinn Center for Policy Priorities to Host First Major Event Building the Infrastructure of Opportunity for Latinos in Nevada

June 20, 2014

Contact: Dr. Nancy E. Brune, Executive Director
Phone (702) 522-2178

LAS VEGAS, NV—The Kenny C. Guinn Center for Policy Priorities, a new bipartisan policy center in Nevada that provides data-driven and independent analysis, will be hosting its first major event on June 30, 2014: Building the Infrastructure of Opportunity for Latinos in Nevada.

At the event, the Guinn Center will release its first major policy report titled The State of Latinos in the Intermountain West. This report will discuss seminal issues affecting Latinos in Nevada and the Intermountain West states, and will discuss how to build an infrastructure of opportunity to improve outcomes.

The event will feature three panel discussions highlighting research and best practices by national experts on policies improving the well-being of Latinos in the areas of higher education, workforce development, and access to capital.

Event Information

June 30, 2014

8:00 AM to 12:30PM

InNEVation Center, 6795 Edmond Street, Suite 300, Las Vegas, NV 89118

For more information, see the Guinn Center's website at <http://guinncenter.org/events/>.